THE WOODLANDS, Texas, April 22, 2021 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- ChampionX Corporation ("ChampionX" or the "Company") (NASDAQ: CHX) has again earned the top overall ranking for total customer satisfaction and was ranked first in eight additional categories in the 2021 Oilfield Products Survey conducted by EnergyPoint Research. This independent annual survey is the industry benchmark for measuring customer satisfaction across the global oilfield and is comprised of thousands of in-depth evaluations. Final results in this survey reflect opinions from more than 3,300 customer evaluations concerning major suppliers of oilfield products.

In addition to Total Satisfaction, ChampionX rated first in Artificial Lift, Digital Oilfield & Big Data, Engineering & Design, Horizontal & Directional, Intelligent Sensors & Controls, Onshore Applications, Performance & Reliability, and Production Chemicals.

Sivasankaran "Soma" Somasundaram, President and Chief Executive Officer, stated, "Prior to our June 2020 merger both Apergy and Nalco Champion had well-established reputations for our commitment to continuously advocate for our customers. It is gratifying to see how that commitment continues to add value for our customers as demonstrated by our standing in the 2021 EnergyPoint survey. Today, our teams are united in our purpose of improving lives and focused around providing products and technology that drive our customers' success."

"Achieving this success across nine unique categories, including total satisfaction, reflects our team members' efforts to exceed customer expectations every day. Our team's dedication to quality, service and customer driven innovation are clearly the differentiators that set ChampionX apart and highlights the success of our 'better together' portfolio."

"Conventional wisdom among some is that the oil and gas industry's best days are behind it. But this ignores the vital role hydrocarbons will play in global economic growth and rising living standards for decades to come," said Doug Sheridan, Managing Director and founder of EnergyPoint. "The table is set for a new generation of suppliers to take the industry to even greater heights through more productive, efficient and environmentally friendly solutions. We believe the companies highlighted in this year's survey are well positioned to offer that leadership."
